

SPONSOR A STUDENT

Neither primary nor secondary education is completely free in Tanzania. Parents in rural villages with no education of themselves often don't send their girl child to school because they worry it will be a waste of their resources. This has an obvious impact on their employment opportunities later on in life. We would like to see this trend change within our community.

Which is why Grasslands Secondary School is helping girls and young mothers with babies get training in programs like: hairdressing, baking, cooking and sewing and the girls will be able to work in related fields upon completion.

You can become a sponsor of one of these girls that have applied at the school. Identifying candidates for school sponsorship will be done thoroughly with the local leadership to ensure sponsorship to those that are really in need.
